

Privacy Policy

I know that privacy and security is a major concern so I have set out the procedures I use for safeguarding your personal data. Please read this Privacy Policy carefully and check it occasionally as it could change from time to time.

Squiggly Sue Designs Privacy Promise

I am dedicated to safeguarding your privacy online. I will only collect, store and use your personal information for specific purposes. I use your personal information to support and develop my connection with you. I only share your personal data in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998 and other appropriate laws. You may contact me at any time with any privacy queries or concerns and to see the personal data you have given me and request modification.

Consent

Your usage of the Squiggly Sue Designs website and any disclosure of personal information via the website signifies your consent to me collecting and using personal information about you in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

Your information

When you complete a Contact form on my website to purchase products, I ask for data such as your name, e-mail address, postal address, and contact details. I keep a record of this information.

I keep a record of any orders you make so I can help to deal with any enquiries or problems you may have in the future, and also so I can ensure that any information that I send to you is appropriate.

I keep a record of any e-mail communication you send so I can track any problems or concerns you've had.

If you would like to review the data you have provided to me because you feel that what I presently have on record is incorrect, and/or you would like your data erased from my records, you can so do by contacting me using the contact details below.

How I use your personal data

All the data I gather via our website or through communication with you is used to operate and expand the service I offer you and to personalise my service. I only use your personal data only for:

1. Processing your orders correctly.
2. Development and expansion of the business, including examination of customers' shopping behaviours, measurement of advertisements and product style preferences of my customers.
3. Technical management of my website.
4. Research.
5. Providing you with information about the services I offer.
6. Letting you know about offers and news.

How I protect data

You recognise that the Internet is not a 100% secure platform for communication and, accordingly, I cannot guarantee the security of any data you send to me (or I send to you) via the Internet. I am not responsible for any damages which you, or others, may suffer as a result of the loss of confidentiality of such information.

I do take every precaution to safeguard your information. All personal data stored is kept in a secure environment.

I do not store or process your card details, they are processed by Paypal. Please see PayPal's privacy policy for their information on this matter.

How you can help me protect your data

Please bear in mind that whenever you willingly divulge personal data online in non-protected situations - for example on message forums, through email, or in chat spaces - that data can be collected and used by others. In short, if you post personal data online that is accessible to the public, you may receive unsolicited communications from other parties in return. Also remember to close your browser window when you have finished using the computer. This is to ensure that others cannot access your personal data and communications. If you share a computer with someone else or are using a computer in a public place like a library or Internet café. I cannot confirm or warrant the security of any data you communicate to us, and you do so at your own risk. Once I receive your communication, I make every effort to ensure its security on my systems.

Further information

If you have questions about your personal data or our privacy policy, please contact me at squigglysue@btinternet.com or 07933017512.

To see all the information I have about you, and to correct any inaccuracies, please write to me at: Squiggly Sue Designs, 75 Vicarage Road, Mickleover, Derby DE3 0ED

Changes to privacy policy

I reserve the right to amend my privacy policy, whilst keeping it within all appropriate legislation and guidelines. I will do all I can to ensure that these pages show the most up to date information at all times, and may notify you of such changes by uploading the revised privacy policy on the Squiggly Sue Designs website.

Cookie policy

By visiting this website with your browser settings adjusted to allow cookies, you are consenting to Squiggly Sue Designs using cookies for the purposes described below in order to provide you with a fully efficient shopping experience.

Our cookie policy:

Please note: to make full use of the Squiggly Sue Designs website and to benefit from a selection of personalised features, your computer, tablet or mobile phone will need to be set up to accept cookies.

- Squiggly Sue Designs may use cookies to deliver the best user experience possible, to do things such as remember your preferences or enable you to store products in your basket. The cookies I use don't store sensitive data such as your name, address or payment details and they can't harm your computer.

- The data I may collect through these cookies is solely for the purpose of improving my website and your browsing experience – it is never used to identify you and I would never share or sell on this data.

What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small text file which is downloaded and stored on your computer or mobile device by websites that you visit.

Your browser accesses the cookie file only when you visit the website that produced it. This helps to ease your navigation by automatically logging you in and remembering things like your preferences and what's in your shopping basket.

The information stored within any given cookie can only be accessed by the website that created it and cookies are limited to communicating only the information that you have disclosed to the site.

Types of cookie:

Session (or Transient) Cookies

Session cookies are stored in your computer's memory for the length of your browsing session. They become inaccessible after the session has been inactive for a time and are automatically deleted from your computer when the browser is closed. They allow you to move from page to page without having to log-in repeatedly.

Persistent Cookies

Persistent cookies are stored in your computer memory and are not deleted when the browser is closed. They are used to keep your preferences for the website, so they will be remembered for next time you visit the website. They are also used to collect information about the numbers of visitors, the average time spent on a particular page and analyse shopping behaviour on the website. This information is used to find out how well the website works and where it can be improved.

Flash Cookies (or Locally Shared Objects)

You probably have Adobe Flash installed on your computer. Websites that contain Flash can also store small files on your computer that are used in the same way as cookies.

Flash cookies can also back up the data that is stored in other cookies. When you delete cookies, your Flash cookies are not affected. So a website may still recognise you if it backed up the deleted cookie information on a Flash cookie.

Sharing with social networks

If you use the badges that allow you to share products and content with your friends via social networks like Twitter and Facebook, these companies may set a cookie on your computer memory.

Find out more about these here:

<https://www.facebook.com/about/privacy/>

<http://twitter.com/privacy>

<http://www.google.com/intl/en-GB/policies/privacy/>